M1 Discussion

Choose some aspect of this discussion on archetypal roles and vocation to write about. Respond to one or more of the questions: What is the archetype that is inauthentic or inferior within me and which may lead me into living parts of my life inauthentically? What archetypal roles do I struggle with that may keep me from my true or truer vocation? What are my equivalent Personality #1's and #2's, my own Scientist and the Mystic, and how have I resolved, or not resolved, the struggle between them? Where have I chosen a vocational path that feels like a compromise, as Jung did initially with medicine, and why?

As you read each other's response, look for common themes that emerge. Of course the person is speaking from their individual, particular perspective, but also, we all speak also as members of a collective. What is the collective saying through us about the difficulties of being true to thine own self?

3. Click the drop-down arrow next to the post and click Print Thread.

4. When the print box appears, choose your printer and click OK to print. If you want to save the document, choose Document Writer (shown below) and click OK.
